About LAURIE DOLPHIN

Laurie Dolphin is an award-winning author, publisher, book packager, and designer, and the founder of Authorscape, an independent book publishing studio in New York.

Across all her work; children's nonfiction, fine-art monographs, television histories, health and wellness titles, and celebrity-driven photography books, Laurie Dolphin has built a reputation for boutique, high-craft publishing, uniting strong visual design and editorial with deeply human, globally minded stories.

Through her imprint Dolphin Books, she develops high-craft, visually driven titles for the art, photography, pop-culture, and wellness worlds. She served as editor and publisher of The Last Dalai Lama? (2018), a deluxe art book companion to Mickey Lemle's documentary, featuring a foreword by His Holiness the Dalai Lama that received the Gold IPPY for Best Book Arts Craftsmanship from the 2020 Independent Publisher Book Awards.

Dolphin is widely recognized in contemporary pop-culture publishing for her long-running collaboration with actor and photographer Norman Reedus. Through Dolphin Books and Big Bald Gallery, she has designed and published Reedus's photography and fan-art titles, including The Sun's Coming Up... Like a Big Bald Head (2013), Thanks for All the Niceness: Fan Art from Around the World (2014), Portraits from the Woods (2019), In Transit (2024) and she serves as Reedus's art curator.

As a book packager, Dolphin has created and shaped numerous notable projects, including Evidence: The Art of Candy Jernigan (Chronicle, 1999), This Is Today: A Window on Our Times (a visual history of NBC's Today Show, 2003), Flash Frames: A New Pop Culture (Watson-Guptill, 2002), Secrets of Longevity: One Hundred Ways to Live to be Hundred (Chronicle Books 2006, updated in 2025) Om Yoga: A Guide to Daily Practice with Cyndi Lee (Chronicle Books 2002) Giving Back with Meera Gandhi (2011)

Her studio has also produced high-profile photography and art books such as GUZO by Gelila Bekele, celebrating rural Ethiopian communities, and Stardust: The Work and Life of Jeweler Extraordinaire Frédéric Zaavy. Her newest book, Rise with the Sun: Navajo Wisdom for a Modern Times, by Jake Singer (Union Square & Co, Hachette Books) is a modern dedication of Navajo wisdom, slated to be published in 2026.

In addition to her work as a packager and publisher, Dolphin is the author of several influential children's books: Georgia to Georgia: Making Friends in the USSR (1991); Neve Shalom/Wahat Al-Salam: Oasis of Peace (1993); Our Journey from Tibet: Based on a True Story (1997); and Magical Objects from Around the World (1997). These books, which focus on peace communities and cross-cultural understanding, have earned her the "Children's Book of the Year" award from Parents Magazine and the 1994 National Jewish Honor Book Award.
